RUFUS KING & CO.

To Advertisers.

We shall have a few pages for advertisers in the Wisconsin Almanac and Annual Register, which we hope to issue about the 1st of January. As the pamphlet will be one of great value for frequent reference, it is an excellent medium for advertising. Those who desire to avail themselves of it will do well to make immediate application.

SENATOR DODGE.—We confess to some degree of surprise at the tone of feeling indicated by sundry articles in three or four of our Republican cotemporaries, in reference to an article of ours, published some time since concerning Senator DODGE. We are not late recruits in the army of Freedom, and do not trouble ourselves with fears lest when we say a good word for a gentleman of opposite political faith, whose integrity and whose honesty in the course of political life which his own conscience points out to him no one doubts, we shall be suspected of lapsing from our own political faith.

Whatever feelings other may entertain towards Senator Dodge, the city of Milwaukee has always found in him a friend, ready and willing to do everything which lay in his power, by personal or political influence or position, to further its interests. This being the case, inasmuch as our suggestion was to our citizens only, to express their sense of respect for the retiring Senator, and appreciation of his services to them, we do not see that there is occasion for any great disturbance of mind on the part of our friends abroad, on our account.

RETURNED FROM KANSAS.—We had the pleasure yesterday of greeting our old friend, E. G. Ross, for a long time foreman in our office, and who went out to Kansas with a party from this city. Mr. Ross has been through all the troubles in the Territory, and borne his full share with the other settlers, in the gallant stand made for Freedom there. He is now, with his brother, publishing the Kansas Tribune, at Topeka, the Free State capital, and a part of his business here is to obtain subscribers to his excellent paper. We trust that he will be successful.

Mr. Ross informs us that the two Legislatures are to assist in about a fortnight, at Lecompton and Topeka, but no collision is anticipated between the hostile parties. He thinks it probable that the Bogus Legislature will adopt a State Constitution, and submit to the people; but unless the test acts are repealed, and all idea of enforcing the bogus laws given up, the free state settlers will have nothing to do with the matter.

MR. ROSS states that in coming through Missouri, he found the feeling very general that the attempt to make Kansas a Slave State must be given up. In this connection we have the following, from the Lawrence Herald of Freedom:

A gentleman who has spent a greater portion of his life on the western borders of Missouri, who is familiar with the entire working of the institution of slavery, and who is at this time a heavy slaveholder, assured us the other day, that the property holders of that State, who have been compelled to pay the expenses of those marauding expeditions into Kansas, have fully determined to array themselves, with all the power they can command, against further interference by the people of that State, with the institutions of Kansas. He said the day had gone by when there was even a hope of making Kansas a slave State. "Every intelligent person, who knows the true state of affairs," said he, "knows this to be the case." He claimed that Stringfellow and Atchison might continue to bluster, but left to themselves, instead of hurting others, like Col. Benton's bull, they would kill themselves "spluring."

Already many persons in Missouri, who apprehended all was lost if Kansas could not be made a slave State, are preparing to leave with their slaves for Texas. This is but the natural effect of the foolish statements of the demagogues of Missouri, who said "slave labor would be valueless if Kansas was an abolition State." The assertions of those men that Missouri would be a free State in ten years, if Kansas should be a free State, has done more to make it such than all the action of the Northern men combined.

"MISREPRESENTATION."—This is the appropriate heading of an article in the Watertown Democrat, on the vexed question of the county seat vote, in which article the Sentinel is misrepresented as "for some reason or other never losing an opportunity to cast a slur on that city." And further, the Democrat says, in reference to our placing the vote of Watertown in November at 930, that "it would have been just as easy to have given the real figures."

In relation to the first quotation above from the Democrat, we shall waste no space in argument on the subject; it is totally without foundation in fact. We presume that we have published more "favorable notices" of Watertown, original and copied, during the past two years, than have either of the papers of that city, whose growth and prosperity we have every reason to hope for and to aid, and not a single one do depreciate her.

As to the figures of the vote, we took them from [illegible] official table of the vote of the county, forgetting for the moment that two of the wards of the city were on the Dodge county side of the line, and omitted. But incorrect as this was, it is the only table of votes that we have been able to get. The Watertown papers, after this last vote, inform us that the vote of November was 1318 instead of 930, making the increase in six or seven weeks 772 instead of 1160.

How Sheriff Jones got Anxious.

Sheriff Jones, of Kansas notoriety, grew anxious, in November, about the safety of the free state prisoners under his charge, and sent the following letter to Gov. Geary:

Lecompton, Nov. 17, 1856.

SIR:—It is indispensably necessary that balls and chains should be furnished for the safety of the convicts under my charge; and understanding that the same can be procured by your application to General Smith, I will request that you will procure and have them sent over at the earliest day possible.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
SAMUEL J. JONES, Sheriff, D. C.

His Excellency Gov. Geary, Fort Leavenworth

Somehow, Gov. Geary did not see the the necessity of the intesecting apparatus called for by the Sheriff, and replied to him to that effect; and so the prisoners were obliged to get along without them.

ARIZONIA.—A gentleman familiar with the region embraced in the Gadsden purchase, writes to the Buffalo Commercial that the number of inhabitants there is grossly exaggerated. He doubts whether all the people, indians included, amount to a thousand souls. A gentlemen who was present at the so called territorial election, says there were but sixty-six votes cast.

No matter. The next Congress, being largely "democratic" in both branches, will see the necessity of providing for a horde of hungry office seekers, by organizing the Territory.

Letter from Col. Fremont.

Col. FREMONT is understood to be busy in preparing for the press a couple of volumes, giving the history of one or two of his exploring expeditions across the mountains. They cannot fail to be intensely interesting. How these hardy explorers sympathize with each other may be seen by the following extract from a letter from Col. Fremont to the publishers of Anderson's Travels in the Interior of Africa:

"It is needless for me to say that I read such books as this of Mr. Anderson's with a peculiar pleasure, greatly enhanced by old associations. Fami liar—although, perhaps, in an inferior degree—with similar 'wanderings,' I find in the brief record of a night, or the journey of a day, many unwritten things—much that the traveler all unwards thought unworthy of mention, but which at the time, filled his mind and heart. Nights of sleepless anxiety and days of wearing doubt or despondency, crowd the unwritten page; often a chance word suggests trains of incidents and circumstances which do not come under the eye of the general leader. But, aside from the attentions of personal sympathy, these books possess a charm for me which I confess I do not find in any other department of literature.

"It hardly occurs to our mind, that the thousands of years which have rolled away, impressed with the infinite activity of the human race, have not sufficed to make known to us our own habitation. We have extended our researches into other worlds, material and spiritual, but have not yet made ourselves acquainted with the earth on which we tread.

"In these latter days new and grand pictures have been displayed to our minds, giving a wider field to the imagination. That primeval darkness which hung over the waters of the circumpolar sea and obscured the interior of Africa has vanished before the generous courage of Kane and the brave endurance of Barth and his companions. Many, before them, were called to the noble task, but the glorious fruition of the whose few was long delayed. We give our heartfelt admiration to the men who have penetrated the night of ages, have uncovered the graves of their brave predecessors who perished under the fevered noon of Africa and the frozen night of the Polar Sea."

"Remote, uncertain, beset with uncommon and undefined dangers, these journeys, like that from whose undiscovered bourne no traveler returns, seemed to fascinate with a mysterious charm. The dangerous path had always its travelers. One by one they disappeared from the horizon of our knowledge; but unrecorded deaths, and regal prohibitions, the regretful sympathy of nations for brave lives thrown away, all were ineffectual to chill the enthusiasm which urged new followers into their devoted path.

And Honor, called them to the field again."

WOOL AND SUGAR.—The well informed Washington correspondent of the Detroit Tribune writes, under date of Dec. 28th, as follows:

I think I perceive difficulties in the way of a settlement of the Tariff question, which will be fatal to that design at this session. Mr. Letcher, of Virginia, of the minority on the Committee of Ways and Means, reported on Tuesday, a Bill somewhat opposed to the plan of the Secretary of the Treasury, imposing a duty of 10 per cent. on wool, instead of making it free, and proposing a general reduction of 20 per cent on the tariff of 1846. The wool duties are exciting much feeling—The number of sheep in the United States in 1850, was upwards of 21,000,000, yielding over 42,000,000 pounds of wool annually. The increase of the Western States in the production of wool from 1840 to 1850 was very heavy.—Thus Michigan in 1840 had but 99,618 sheep, while in 1850, she had 756,435; having increased her production nearly eight-fold. Illinois had in 1840, 395,672 sheep; in 1850, 894,043. Indiana in 1840, 675,000; in 1850, 1,122,000.—Iowa in 1840, 15,554; in 1850, 149,960. Ohio, 2,000,000 in 1840, and 3,900,000 in 1850. These figures sufficiently show the growth of the wool business in the North-west. There is much dispute as to the effect of the reduction, or total abolition of duty on wool upon the production of this important staple. The manufacturers say that to make foreign wool free, will build up the manufactories, which in their turn will make a home market for wool and increase its price.—The design of Letcher's bill is to propose a compromise between the present 30 per cent. rates, and total abolition of the duty, as proposed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

But after all, the chief stumbling block will be the sugar duties; why should that abominable and oppressive tax upon the poor be continued? It seems that under all our enormous protection, the productions have in Texas and Louisiana have dwindled down from 460,000 hhds a year, to 120,000 hhds. It is absurd to speak of protecting an interest which dwindled at this rate, under the foreign system. The Treasury report shows that the duties on sugar, this year, amount to $6,500,000, and as we pay the same duty upon the $12,600,000 in value which are produced at home, it follows that the country is taxed $10,000,000 on a necessary of life, to pamper less than 3,000 sugar planters, in two States of the Union. This is an imposition which cannot, and will not be much longer endured. There is no more reason for protecting sugar than for protecting tea and coffee. The abolition of the sugar tax should form an article in the Republican creed, and if adopted, it will add to its popularity.

The chance for logrolling at this session of Congress is great, and the logs are plenty. Very likely the wool manufacturers, the free-sugar men, the railroad men who want a remission of duties, and the Pacific railroad operators, will make some combination which will start all the timber together.

A WARLIKE RUMOR.—It is reported by papers received by the last foreign steamer, that Russia was disposed to aid Persia against England.

The Liverpool Mercury says:

A telegraphic dispatch from St. Pettrsburg dated Dec. 3, says: 50,000 Russians, commanded by General Bernloff, are ready to march upon the frontiers of Persia at the first call of the Shah. Besides which two complete corps d'armee are ready to march for the Austrian frontiers.

ANOTHER RAILROAD NORTH.—The New London, Waupaca Co. Times urges the taking of measures for building a railroad from Oshkosh to that place, a distance of 30 miles. Such a road would reach the vast and growing trade of the Wolf River Pineries, and penetrate much fine agricultural country besides. It could be built very cheaply, and the people are determined to have it.

☞ The Carolina Times seems to have a very just appreciation of the late Southern Commercial Convention. "It adjourned," says the Journal, "after adopting the usual number of resolutions, &c., &c., all of which will be filed away with those previously adopted, to be hereafter referred to for drafting similar patriotic sentiments." After this brief notice of the Convention, the Times, by way perhaps of hint to its members, proceeds to treat of the subject of Lunatic Asylums.

POSTMASTER AT PORTAGE CITY.—MR. BROWN, of the Portage City Badger State has received the appointment of postmaster at that important point, in place of J. B. FARGO, resigned.

MR. SUMNER.—A Washington dispatch of the 26th says:—"Letters were received yesterday, stating that Mr. Sumner, who was expected to return with Mr. Wilson, will not resume his seat till the middle of January."

☞ The Adams Express Company have received orders from the Treasury Department for the transfer of $500,000 gold coin from St Louis to New Orleans, and one million in silver coin and bullion from the latter city to Philadelphia.

GENERAL BANKING LAW FOR MICHIGAN.—A movement is being passed in Michigan for the enactment of a General Banking Law for that State, and it is probable that one will be enacted at the coming session of the Legislature.

PRENTICE GOING TO ST. LOUIS.—The Lafayette Journal says that George D. Prentice, the world renowned editor of the Louisville Journal, is about to establish a paper in St. Louis.

DEATH AMONG HOGS.—The Cincinnati Gazette says that the fatal malady prevailing among Hogs in the Ohio Valley, has, it is computed, destroyed between 50,000, and 70,000 within a radius of a hundred miles surrounding Cincinnati. The disease is considered incurable, having baffled the most critical investigations into its nature, and as steadily resisted all remedial agents.

Hoops.

BY A COOPER.

From the Philadelphia Bulletin.

Hoops on barrels, kegs and pails,
Hoops on boxes, tubs and bales,
Are articles lookingmuchly—
But hoops as they puff out woman's dress,
Making the WOMAN seem so much less,
Are things most indefensible.

Hoops, when their sturdy clasp confines
In brown old casks the richest wines,
Are objects of admiration—
But hoops as part of woman's baggage—
Are like the whoops of painted savage—
A vile abomination.

Hoops make useful, pretty tops
For active little girls and boys;
Put hoops on woman, gentle,
Are things to sneer at and to scoff,
And like the whoop of a whooping cough,
Neither useful nor ornamental.

For while dear woman bones her shirts,
And with a skeleton flaunts and flirts,
She has so much to carry,
Man finds it hard with her to talk,
And harder still to sit or walk,
But hardest of all to marry.

For when a smitten wretch has seen,
Among the lost in crinoline,
The one he heart holds dearer,
Oh! what a chill to ardent passion,
To feel that, thro' this hollow fashion,
He never can be nearer!

That instead of timidly drawing near,
And pouring into the thrilling ear,
The flood of his soul's devotion,
He must stand and bellow in thundering tones,
Across a half acre of skirts and bones,
As if hailing a ship on the ocean.

And if, by chance, the maid of his choice,
Shall faintly hear her lover's voice,
And smile her consent upon—
Why, he captures a mass of hoops and rings,
Skeletons, bones and other things,
Too horrible to mention.

Thus lovely woman hoops to folly,
And drives poor man to melancholy,
By her great frigid zones;
Then let her hear a warning voice,
Between her hoops and hopes make choice,
And give the dogs her bones.

WHAT SLAVE INSURRECTIONS ARE.—In the village of Winchester, Virginia, (or "town," as they called their villages South,) on a bright summer night in 1832, I was suddenly startled by the cry, "To arms! To arms!" On rushing to the street, I was informed that the slaves had risen on Apple Pie Ridge, about six miles distant; and that, having murdered their masters, they were marching to Winchester, where they were to be reinforced by the sable villagers! Presently, General John B. D. Smith came riding by, duly equipped for battle, and leading a troop of horsemen.

Scouts were sent out to reconnoitre the suburbs. They soon reported that they could hear the discharge of fire-arms, and that the insurgents were rapidly approaching. The slaves of the village were carefully guarded. They did not need to be arrested, for they betook themselves to their homes in kitchens and hovels—much more afraid than their masters had cause to be! Guards were stationed around their hiding places, and patrols paraded the streets all night. Terror reigned throughout "ill-fated Winchester," as it was considered. Slumber came to the eyelids of but few—sleep to none! There were half-waking dreams of fire and faggot—blood and carnage.

Finally morning came, and brought with it the true version of the cause of all our troubles. It was this, and this only: Some half-dozen slaves had gone to help themselves from the abundance of the store of meats in a smoke-house. Being detected, they "run like white heads," instead of "cutting their master's throats."

But meanwhile, the imagination of the owner of the meat had conjured up the idea of an "insurrection," and he had sent the startling news to town by a "swift courier." We believed it. General Smith, as in duty bound, called "to arms." We villagers obeyed, and stood to our arms all "that long and fearful night. Morning undeceived us—and so ended that "SLAVE INSURRECTION!!!"

With these facts, candid readers, vividly in my memory, is it remarkable that I should be somewhat incredulous as the intentions of the poor slaves in Tennessee, who have been so cruelly murdered "as a terror to the survivors," being as bad as the frightened editors and letter writers in that region seemed inclined to believe. —Corrs. N. Y. Dispatch.

THE KANE APPROPRIATION DEFEATED BY SENATOR BROADHEAD.—Washington, Dec. 18, 1856.

Mr. Broadhead succeeded to-day in getting the Senate to strike out from the joint resolution passed by the House, the purchase of Dr. Kane's explorations, published by Childs & Peterson, which have attracted such general and deserved commendation. The beggarly compliment of medals is all that is now conceded, which is hard ly worth the acceptance. This achievement of the Senator from Pennsylvania will doubtless fill the measure of a self-satisfaction which seemed to rejoice in depreciating the merits, skill and excellence of a work produced by his own constituents and which competent judges have pronounced to be unequalled by any publication in the country.

Since he has accomplished this task, pursued so perfidiously and bitterly, perhaps he may now find leisure to address himself to some of the many jobs which are protected on a scale of more magnitude and less claim to proper consideration. Gentlemen in the Senate could find conscientious margin enough to vote Commodore Perry $28,000 in money, to furnish him a thousand copies of his book, and to incur a cost of publication, reaching towards a half a million of dollars; and yet were shocked at a bare subscription to Dr. Kane's more meritorious labors, involving not one tithe of the amount. This unjust discrimination will at least excite public attention to the subject, and cause some of those who figured prominently to be scrutinized in their future votes.—North American.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN PHILADELPHIA.—There have been three destructive fires in which the firemen were engaged all night. John Finlaton's Brush Block Factory in the sixteenth ward was totally destroyed, throwing 200 persons out of employment.

A little before 2 o'clock this morning, a fire broke out in the extensive frame stable of Mill & Place, omnibus proprietors, on Till street, above Market West Philadelphia. The flames were communicated about the middle of the stable, and so frightful was the rapidity with which they spread, that of the great number of horses in the building, but two were got out alive, and they were so badly burned that it will be necessary to kill them. One hundred and thirty horses perished in the flames! Thirty omnibuses and all the harness, hay, feed, &c., in the stable were destroyed, involving a loss of about $40,000. From the stable the fire communicated to a row of four small dwellings, back of Till street and so furious was the fire that the occupants of these dwelling were compelled to fly for the lives, leaving all their effects behind. William Mooney the occupant of one of these houses, had barely time to escape from his blazing home, with his wife and children in their night clothes. These four houses were owned by John Dickson, and they were occupied by Wm. Mooney, Preston Middleton, and Wm. Patton. The scene presented on the ground this morning is sickening. The half burned bodies of the poor beasts which perished in the flames, lay where their stalls stood when the fire broke out, and their positions generally indicated the greatness of the torture they suffered. The origin of the fire is attributed to incendiarism.

Wilson's planing mill was likewise destroyed. The total losses by these fires is $100,000.

COLD WEATHER.—It really amuses us to hear the Milwaukee papers groaning over the cold weather, when the thermometer goes down to zero, and hear them wish they had only what the New York papers call cold weather; that is down to ten or twelve above zero. Why, tropical friends, if you cannot stand Milwaukee weather, come to Baraboo. We have had the mercury at 28 or 24 degrees below zero, and not suffered so much as you eastern, lake-side people do with it as much as above, with your raw, blustering winds. Come to Baraboo, where wood is plenty, and where there are enough trees to keep off the wind—except on such days as last Monday—and where we have a coat of snow from 20 to 24 inches thick, just enough to keep the ground warm. The following is our weather table for this week, which has, except on one day, been quite mild:

Sunday	14	degrees below zero.
Monday,	10	" " "
Tuesday,	11	" " "
Wednesday,	stood at zero.
Thursday,	"	"
Friday,	4	degrees above zero.
Saturday,	28	" " "

We have had steady sleighing since the last day of November, and if our "January thaw," which came in April last season, does not come earlier than common, we shall have three and a half months sleighing this season. Don't the Milwaukeeans wish they had as good a time?—Baraboo Republic.

BUSINESS AT WATERTOWN.—We have rarely seen our streets present a more lively appearance than they have for the past week. Everything seems to be progressing upon the high pressure principle. Farmers are selling the most of the good sleighing, and marketing their wood and such articles of produce as bear a price commensurate with their ideas of true value. They are not selling much wheat—the price still continuing depressed, though gradually improving. Corn, oats, barley, pork, beef, butter, eggs, vegetables of all kinds, and in fact everything but wheat, that farmers have to offer, are selling at good prices, and large quantities are changing hands daily.—Watertown Dem.

Winter Items.

CAUGHT IN THE SNOW STORM.—Mrs. Belvail, in company with her son, a young man, and a boy some twelve years of age, returning from a visit on Sunday evening last, lost themselves on the prairie a mile or two back of the city, and were obliged to camp out in a corn shock. It will be remembered that it snowed very hard during the evening, and the wind blowing freely filled up the track, so that they lost all traces of the road. It was impossible to see but a step or two ahead, and the drifting now obliterated their tracks so that they could not retrace their steps, they were completely lost. After wandering about an hour or two, they got into the fields of Mr. Buck, about a mile and a half west of the city, and finding some shocks of corn camped out. At daylight they drove into the city. Mrs Belvail had her hands badly frozen. It was a narrow escape for them all.—Lyons (Iowa) Herald 25th.

FROZEN TO DEATH.—On Monday morning, Catharine Gallager, wife of Edward Gallager, was found on a lot near Fifth Avenue, frozen to death. She had, on the evening previous, been on a visit to her god-daughter, near the Quarry, and while returning is supposed to have become stupified with the cold, and laid down to sleep. —Clinton (Iowa) Herald, 25th.

FIVE PERSONS FROZEN TO DEATH.—We learn from a gentleman of this city, who has just returned from Iowa City, that on Saturday night last, near Monticello, a man, three women and a child were frozen to death, in going home under the following circumstances: Returning from a neighbor's, with a pair of horses and sleigh, they got off the road, and, in crossing a hollow, the horses became detached from the sleigh and run off—leaving the parties in snow from five to eight feet deep. The people not returning, on Tuesday morning, the neighbors collected, and after a long search, the women and child were found in a willow thicket, covered with blankets, and with a large quantity of snow over them, all dead. The man was found, without his hat, frozen to death, about a quarter of a mile from the women, and within forty rods of his own house.—Galena Courier, 27th.

FROZEN TO DEATH.—A man of the name of JAMES NORTON, residing about 7 miles from Portage, was frozen to death on Thuesday night of last week. He was found on Friday morning, about ½ of a mile from his house. He probably had lost his way, and thos now being very deep became bewildered and traveled round and round, in every direction as his track indicated. He seldom ever drank liquor, and it is belived he drank nothing on the day of his death. He leaves a wife and family; and his wife is said to be distracted, even to insanity, with his loss.—Portage City Ind.

NEW LONDON (WAUPACCA CO.) ITEMS.—It is estimated that no less than 125 teams with supplies for lumbermen in the Pineries, passed through this village during the past fortnight.—The supplies for the surveyors of the proposed Superior railroad passed through here last week.

A company of merchants have completed a contract for the erection of a large first class saw mill early in the spring.

It is currently reported that a steamboat, to ply between this village and Fond du Lac, is to be built here this winter, to be owned by New London gentlemen.

The Queen City is to be put on the Wolf, from Oshkosh, on the opening of navigation. The increased travel to this point demands the addition of another boat.

A sash factory, containing a planing machine, is to be erected in a month or two—an institution for which we have almost during the past year.

Nothwithstanding the severe cold weather, our streets present a lively appearance, and the faces of our merchants wear a pleasant aspect.

Real estate is enhancing in value. Some of our Dutch citizens don't pretend to sell any by the foot. As high as two dollars per foot has been paid for the article. The location in this instance was very desirable. Rivers lots sell for from $200 to $400, village lots generally from $75 to $125, and lots just out of the village for $25 to $60.

A daily and tri-weekly line of stages is now in successful operation between here and Oshkosh.

A young man named John DIX, had his arm broken and head injured, last week, by a log which rolled upon him. He is now out of danger.—Times.

LAKE SUPERIOR FISHERIES.—Of the many and valuable resources of the Lake Superior region there is no one destined to be of greater ultimate importance than its fisheries. They can be developed at an insignificant cost, and from the commencement of operations become a source of great pecuniary profit. Already they are attracting attention, and during the past season experiments were made at various localities on the lake with great success. At Hiawatha, on the Minnesota shore, about one hundred miles from here, Mr. Richard Godfroy, with a few men, put up about three hundred packages. At Encampment, Messrs. Montgomery & Ashton put up about forty barrels, and at La Pointe a much larger quantity was packed than at either of these places. The schooner Algonquin arrived here on Saturday last with about one hundred packages from Hiawatha and sixty from La Pointe.

Mr. Godfroy, of Hiawatha, informs us that he caught during the past season a white fish which girthed nineteen inches, was thirty inches long, and measured six inches around the tail next to the fin.—Superior Chronicle, Nov. 26.

WOOL STATISTICS.—The United States produce 54,000,000 lbs. of wool annually. They consume 71,000,000 lbs. They import, then, about 18,000,000; that is the United States import a little more than one-fourth of the wool consumed by our manufactories. We should be able to export wool rather than be compelled to import it. There are five manufacturing establishments, all in the State of Massachusetts, which consume, in the aggregate, 10,600,000 lbs, which is one-fifth of the entire wool crop of the United States. Ohio is the greatest wool growing State in the United States, her crop being 10,196,000 lbs: New York stands next, her clip being 10,071,000 lbs.—Ohio Farmer, Dec. 6th.

The St. Paul Fur Trade.

The following article is taken from the St. Paul Advertiser, a good looking daily recently started:

The trade is almost entirely limited at present to the Pembina, or Red River region, and around the head waters of the Mississippi. The buffalo robes come almost entirely from this source, the Buffalo ranges being restricted to the region north of the Cheyenne and west of the Missouri. The Minnesota river country has fallen off in Buffalo to a very considerable extent—the whole receipts for export from that region not amounting to more than 12,000 robes. Wild dogs are infesting, however, the large prairies surrounding Fort Ripley, and the hides of these, for which we are indebted to H. W. Hastings, Esq., exhibit the fatal capacity of furs from St. Paul for the present year:

64,35 Rats	$11,572 56
5,876 dinks	18,801 60
1,498 Martens	5,376 00
1,42 Fishers	4,702 50
876 Red Foxes	1,095 00
2,400 Cats	2,580 00
10 Pantheons	25 00
364 Badgers	91 00
2,092 Wolves	3,048 00
466 Otter	1,4 7 50
356 Beaver, (lbs)	889 00
2,5131 Wolverines	1,971 00
610 Muskrats	6,100 00
20 Cross Fox	100 00
8 Silver Fox	400 00
80 Lynx	120 00
7,500 Others	41,250 00
Total	$120,750 50

A notable feature in the fur trade for the several years past, is the gradual but sure decline of its productiveness—correspanding with a growing demand in Europe, and our own country for furs. Each of these causes has assisted the other to enhance the price of furs—and they have been so fashionable as the have grown expensive—and all these causes concurred to lift them to a figure last year, they never before reached in an American market. Nevertheless we will not do to calculate too surely on last year's prices for the product of the present year, as the consumption on of furs is after all, entirely dependent on the ever inconstant caprices of fashion.

Below we quote the current prices of the different staples at St Paul, Forbes & Kittson's:

Rats	$ 18
Mart ns	3,50
Mink	2,25
Coon	75
Lynx	2,50
Badg rs	40
Otter	3,50
Beav r (per lb)	1,50
Fisher	4,50
Bear	10 00
Red f ox	1,25
Cross Fox	5,00
Silver Fox	10,00
Robe	5,50

The principal demand is for wolves, buffaloes and muskrats, and prices accordingly rule highest for these staples.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

William Broomwell, drunk and disorderly fined $10 in default of payment sent to jail for 20 days

William McGowan, upon a charge of assault and bat tery on Daniel Lavin was tried, found not guilty and dis charged.

Four men, named Henry Steinmann, John H noy Bar semann, Conrad Strempel, and Wilhelm Kaiko were charged with assault and battery upon Otto Dultz, the case was c ntinued to January 6th, 1 57, at 10 A M.

WIFE BEATING.—Several cases of complaints against husbands for cruelly beating their wives, were preferred Some of the women were bruised and crippled in a shame ful degree We have repeatedly heard he Police Justice express his determination to put a stop to this increasing evil, but he has not yet effected even a diminution of these brutal offences Th reasonable, because he never in vests with sufficient power by this sta te to punish the brutes when found guilty. In other thing to be considered is the forms of punishment There are but three ways to pun ish, by fine not exceeding $50, by dir ct imprisonment not exceeding 60 days, or what is in reality a humbug in law—by at your s ion bail in a fine is not pa d — Why a brute, who has repeatedly beaten h s wife, should not be punished by imprisonment in the State Prison we never could assign a sufficient reason If such a man (if he is entitled to the name) was sent to Waupun for a year or so he would b worth s omething and earn something for the State, and thus he p to defray th expenses of his repeated prosecutions, and t the women would b free from h s cruelty while he was in ar ceration

If a man steal five cents in a dwelling house, he can be sent to the State Prison for a year but a brute who cleaves h s wife's throat, ll rows her to the floor of her dwelling, and kicks, pounds and stamps upon her prostrate form, and brea ks her bill she s ses elsew, ge s off with a fine Which of the two he most deserves the horrors of the silent system? In he eyes of God, and in the mind of civil zed man, which is the greater offence of the two? Answer it, if you can, ye who have framed such laws and though repea edly admonished, do not change them I s n Police Courts of cities where Le gisla ors may see the workings at l effect of the r acts of legislation, and whether or not they ought to m nds of Jus tice, and next to their presence is a Police Co rt is a rare ful perusal of the reports of doings in s h Courts

To the reports of police cases in Bri sh journals, the subjects of the British crown owe h ng r est protection in person and property, and whi l we are re to a m t that the citizen of Wisconsin enjoys superior pers nal rights to any British subje , he never yet h rd it stated in the legal r ghts there guaranteed to all Th fault is with the Legislature not with the mag strate, the latter is the creature of the former, c eys and keeps w thin the limited bounds set by his creator—Justice s ffers by the unwise restriction The Leg slature will soon meet and this, as well as some other criminal l w to, we could mention, should be examined and changed.

Lecture To-Night.

Mr. GODDARD GIVES a second lecture this ev ning, and we trust that not h ng will c me in the having a good house We are sure th t no one, by this time, are satisfied that no common entertainment is offered them in Mr Goddard's lectures and we make no doubt that in his treatment of his th me—Milton's Satan—a general audience may be well en rtained, and that the best audience that Milwaukee can afford may receive pleasure and profit

We imagine that there may be r e among us who, though not well versed in Milton, can well in erstand the general m ts of a discussion of the character of Sat n, and we trust that everybody will be at Young's Hall to night to see that the Devil gets his due

The lecture commences at half past seven instead of eight as heretofore

BALL OF THE MILWAUKEE LIGHT GUARDS.—We cannot allow this splendid affa r to pass off without further notice It was altogether the most an rable thing of the kind ever got up in our city The Hall w s decorated with admirable taste by Messrs Noyes, Fleetamire & Co., with flags, pictures, &c., besides, there instruments of the Guards, and the curtains, tables, Chairs, sofas, &c. were also from their es ablishment

The supper, which was furnished by HAUSMANN & SCHMIDT, was of the best, comprising abundance of sub stantials and delicacies, elegantly served

Among the guests of the evening were Capt Boody, 1st Lieut Gaus, 2d Lieut WADSWORTH, 3d T nant Dix, Order Serg't SWEET, and Sergeant s TILANY, CANNON and BRAGG, of the Chicago Light Guard, the crack corps of that city It was much regretted that Gov BARSTOW and a large delegation from Madison, were detained by an accident on the cars so long as to be obliged to g ve up the idea of arriving in time

Capt KNOWLTON absent, the laborious dut es of the campaign devolved upon 1st Lieut HILL, who, with the other officers and men, were untiring in their endeavors to make the time pass pleasantly, and their efforts were completely successful. It was a grand affa r altogether.

NOTICE.

OFFICE OF THE MILWAUKEE & MISSISSIPPI R. R. Co.,
Milwaukee December 10, 1856.

WHEREAS, the granting of Free Passes, and the app lications for the same, are increasing daily, under the present system, notwithstanding the efforts of Railroad Managers here and elsewhere, to keep them within reasonable bounds, and, whereas in the o pinion of the Board of Directors of this Company, the practice is highly unjust to the Stockholders and injurious to the whole Railroad system, as in many instances the ex cess of Railroad Companies is very sensibly affected by it, and under the most judicious management, in a vast major ity of cases, only results in dissatisfaction, and, whereas, the Presidents and Superintendents of this Company having become sat sfied from actual experience, that the right, by them, to issue Free Passes cannot be exercised with that liberality and discrimination, which was expected when the right was co ferred, nor can it be done to a limited degree, without producing much dissatisfaction, for nearly all applications for passes by a Free Pass, no matter to him what are the circumstances of the case, if he is refused, a once charges the Officer or Company with partiality in the matter, and, whereas, the Presidents and Superintendent have re ceived that the right be withheld from them, as well as from all other Officers of the Company, except in the cases hereafter mentioned.

Therefore, be it Resolved, That from and after January 1, 1857, all outstanding Free Passes at that time except those of Central, ses, Telegraph Companies and Express Agents), be taken up by the Conductors, and returned to the Superintendent, and that no Officers of this Company shall have the r ght to grant Free Passes except the President or Superintendent, and any grant them to the Presidents and Vice Presidents, Treasurer, Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent, Secretary and General Traveling Freight and Ticket Agents, and such Railroad Companies as reciprocate to the same class of Officers

Resolved, That we respectfully solicit the aid of other Railroad Companies in this reform, so much needed in Railroad management, that the system may become uniform

Resolved, That the Secretary furnish a copy of the above Preamble and Resolutions to Railroad Companies, and that the same be printed and placed in all the Depots and Passenger Cars of this Company

The foregoing Preamble and Resolutions were unanimously a opted at a meeting of the Board of Directors of this Company held this day.
